AMERICAN REPERTORY THEATER ANNOUNCES EVENTS ASSOCIATED WITH ITS PRODUCTION OF KATE HAMILL'S ADAPTATION OF THE ODYSSEY

Cambridge, MA—American Repertory Theater (A.R.T.) at Harvard University announced today programming associated with its upcoming production of The Odyssey, including film screenings and interactive puppetry workshops in February, a panel discussion in March, and an art installation and interactive lobby experience throughout the run of Sunday, February 9 through Sunday, March 16, 2025.

ESSENTIAL QUESTION

If you've gone through something traumatic, can you ever go back to who you were? Can you ever go back home?

A.R.T. leads with inquiry and believes in asking questions in a spirit of brave curiosity in a never-ending journey of learning and growth. For each production, the creative team, company, and Engagement team develop an Essential Question to guide work in the rehearsal room, onstage, and for engaging with audiences.

IN THE LOEB DRAMA CENTER WEST LOBBY

- Community-Created Weaving Project
Audiences are invited to weave their own hero's journey into a collaboratively created tapestry on the loom located in the West Lobby.

- On Display: Cattle of the Sun by Heather Morris

Cattle of the Sun tells the story of Odysseus' journey and the wrath of Zeus after the sacrifice of the sun god's sacred cattle. Painted in the style of ancient Greek vases for the 2023 New England Cow Parade, a trompe l'oeil technique is used as the terracotta breaks away to reveal a tumultuous seascape inspired by the Romantic Era.

Heather Morris is a classically trained painter and the Assistant Charge Scenic Artist at the American Repertory Theater at Harvard University. Trained in portraiture by Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts professor Ted Xanas, her art explores character and story with a lens on modern mythology, capturing subjects through likeness, texture, and environment. A.R.T. credits include numerous productions, Tony Award-winning musicals, and the Broadway revival of 1776. Her work has also been featured in HBO's "Game of Thrones" promotional video "Long Story Short", on Comedy Central's "@Midnight", and at The Critics' Choice Television Awards. She pursued degrees in psychology and art at Ursinus College and received her Master's degree in Art Therapy from Lesley University. See more of Heather's work at thirtyartsix.com/.

THE ODYSSEY INFORMATION

Loeb Drama Center | February 9 - March 16, 2025

From the Cyclops to the Sirens, experience cultural touchstone's legendary adventures like never before. "Ms. Hamill's adaptations of the classics (Sense & Sensibility, Vanity Fair, Dracula) are endlessly ingenious...she has unlimited talent; whatever she decides to do, it will be worth seeing," says The Wall Street Journal. The Odyssey, Hamill's latest play reimagines the adventures of the hero Odysseus and his wife, Penelope, and asks how we can learn to embrace healing and forgiveness in order to end cycles of violence and revenge.

Tickets from $35 are available at AmericanRepertoryTheater.org/Odyssey. Discounts are available to students and ticket-buyers under age 25, Blue Star families, EBT cardholders, seniors, Harvard faculty and staff, and others. More information at AmericanRepertoryTheater.org/PlanYourVisit.

ABOUT AMERICAN REPERTORY THEATER

The American Repertory Theater (A.R.T.) at Harvard University is a leading force in the American theater, producing groundbreaking theatrical experiences that catalyze dialogue and transformation. Terrie and Bradley Bloom Artistic Director Diane Paulus began her tenure in 2008 and co-leads the theater in partnership with Executive Director Kelvin Dinkins, Jr., who began in 2022.

A.R.T. is a creative hub, launching productions seen on Broadway, across the US, and around the world and receiving dozens of Tony, Drama Desk, Olivier and other nominations and awards throughout its 45-year history. As the professional theater on campus, A.R.T. plays a central role at Harvard University, catalyzing discourse, interdisciplinary collaboration, and creative exchange, and sharing University resources with the broader community. Driven by its value to lead with inquiry, A.R.T. builds community with audiences, artists, students, staff, and neighbors across Greater Boston, embracing theater's power to cultivate the full breadth and beauty of our shared humanity.

In 2026, A.R.T. will relocate from Harvard Square to its new home in Boston, the David E. and Stacey L. Goel Center for Creativity and Performance. Currently under construction, this new, inspiring center will include flexible adaptive spaces to rehearse, create, teach, and convene in community, fueling A.R.T.'s vision and creative work for years to come.
